WITH THE FARMERS

By Prof. W. F. MASSEY

Sowing Alfalfa.

"Is it advisible to use three-eighths of a bushel of rye as a nurse crop with alfalfa? How many seed to sow per acre, and is "I adpisable to sow a few pounds of fed clover with the alifalfa? I expect to put in thirty-five acres. Ten acres of this were in oats and sand vetch this year, another part in wheat, and the remainder in alfalfa three or four years old. This land has led to this to a great extent, and the remainder in alfalfa three or four years old. This land has all been plowed and disked, and will be harrowed weekly till sown. Will use two tons an acre of ground limestation and 500 pounds of acid phosphate. Will also put in some low grounds subject to overflow, but will not use time on the low ground."

Another thing that one wonders at in passing through Accomac and nother hing that one wonders at in passing through Accomac and condens the in passing through Accomac and Northampton is the almost universal plates of the lands with a little plow and a single horse. Of course, the general lightness of the land has led to this to a great extent, and the shallow plowing answers very well for the sweet potato crops. But to corn and general farm crops, he is struck by the fact that the corn crops in these counties, except where it follows a heavily fertilized early truck crop, is of the poorest character, and the year, another part and the sweet potato crops. But to corn and general farm crops, he is struck by the fact that the corn crops in these counties, except where it follows a heavily fertilized early truck crop, is of the poorest character, and the cultivation is done in the most laborious manner.

How You Win $300 With The Catalogue

By playing this great game you can WIN $300 in a month or so by solving the pictures. The amusement in this game is vast; the expense is so small that it is not worthy of consideration. The contest consists of 77 pictures, each of which was drawn to represent the title of a book. The pictures appear on each day in The Times-Dispatch; you clip them out, save them, solve them, and turn them in after the seventy-seventh and last picture has appeared.

The 77 book titles represented by the 77 pictures were selected from a list of 5,000 book titles, arranged in alphabetical order. This catalogue may be had by any contestant for 35 cents, or 40 cents by mail. Do not send postage stamps; send check or money order. Suppose that you cannot imagine what book title to-day's picture can represent. Well, you can think up the SORT of titles the picture MUST have been drawn to represent.

Then open your catalogue and see if any such title as the one you have made up for the picture is listed there. KEEP AT IT; use your ingenuity AND THIS CATALOGUE and you'll win, for the correct title represented by each picture is in the catalogue.

Want to start to-day? Get a catalogue, and with it you will be presented seven certificates, which are good for the first 35 pictures FREE.
